Introduction

Independent of mind and spirit, cats have always displayed outright indignant behavior at any attempt to train them. Having a mind of their own and a highly changeable nature, cats are unlike any other animal you've owned. The favorites of many, they are misunderstood by all. Astrology helps us to understand some of the quirks these highly intelligent animals display.

Are they good house pets or will they drive you crazy until, against your better judgement, you let them out? Refined hunting skills and sharp instincts are common traits of most cats. Some are known for their patience, or perhaps for nurturing others. Others just prefer your lap, or to lounge on the sofa until served their favorite meal.

The many personalities we see displayed in these wonderful creatures are all part of the plan. Would you automatically choose a beautiful Taurus Cat if you knew that Venus will always make her attractive? Sassy's chart can show you just how important some things are for her survival. What makes Sassy tick and what can she absolutely not do without? How can you add more enjoyment to Sassy's life? Does she need companionship or is she just as happy not sharing your attentions with another cat? These are some of the questions we seek to answer when looking at our beloved feline's chart. Astrology can guide you to get the most enjoyment out of your cat. Sassy will thank you for it.

There are 4 basic elements that make up a chart; they are earth, water, air and fire. If Sassy has four or more planets in one of these elements she is considered to have more than average. Applying a weight or number to these planets, we can determine if the chart has tendencies that would be influenced by being overweighted in that particular element. The Ascendant, Midheaven and planets on the angles are also given a number, which is included in determining the makeup of a chart.

This birth chart interpretation is based on the positions of the planets at the time of your birth. For the benefit of students of astrology, these positions, along with other technical information, are listed below:

Sassy's strong personality can be a little overwhelming at times. "I am the Center of attraction in this house - take notice of me," is what Sassy seems to be saying to you. Proud of her hunting, Sassy will be sure to bring you all her catches so that you can praise her kindly. Sassy is quite an explorer, known to hunt far and wide until her tired body can take no more. Not one for hanging around much, Sassy would much prefer going out to chase prey. Keep Sassy stocked with toys and catnip mice to keep her entertained. She needs activity and will often initiate play with you or other animals in the household. Her behavior could very well border on aggression toward other animals. Sassy needs to feel like she is number one, and has gone as far as using bad behavior to get her point across. Give Sassy a place in the Sun when she returns from long excursions. This will rekindle the fire energy Sassy needs to feel fulfilled.

Ascendant

The Ascendant, or sign on the horizon at birth, changes approximately every two hours. To get a true picture of an animal, an exact time of birth is very helpful. From the Ascendant, not only do we learn the appearance and characteristics of an animal, we also derive a pattern of the chart itself. The Ascendant is the face we show to strangers - animal and human alike. We may view Sassy as her Sun sign, but other will see the sign on the Ascendant first. The rising sign dictates how Sassy portrays herself to others. These characteristics are entirely different from what we see when Sassy is in her home environment. Learn more about how others view Sassy.

Cancer Rising:

Sassy never leaves the kitchen unless you're leading her to water. Yes, Sassy doesn't mind the water, so have an aquarium available to entertain her. Turn the faucet on occasionally and let her bat some water around. Sassy's sensitivity is what attracts you the most. Often coming when called without words, Sassy seems to know what you think and feel. She is always attached to your side - you can't leave the room without your friend. These cats can possess either a big full moon face or a crescent face and are often very sensitive to outer stimuli. Their stomachs tell them when things aren't right; finicky or ravenous, their appetite changes with their moods and possibly the Moon. Romantic to other animals, Sassy likes to cuddle whether spayed or not. This lovely feline will bond with you and demonstrates her love often. A protector and nurturer of all, Sassy could someday adopt other babies, including your own. Sassy feels it is her job to care for others.

Sun

The Sun is Sassy's source of energy and vitality. Its placement in her chart indicates Sassy's true identity, which may or may not always be apparent. Just watch the façade that appears when Sassy is placed in the position of meeting newcomers. The side that she shows to others may be very different from the one you saw a few minutes ago when you were all alone with her. And that's only after Sassy trusts you enough to show it. The basic needs and patterns in Sassy's life are strongly influenced by the sign and placement of the Sun. This is where Sassy puts her best paw forward. This is what Sassy is really like when all barriers and inhibitions are removed. She gets recognition here sometimes, making a visible difference in your world, too. You will always remember Sassy by the characteristics displayed by the Sun even if it's just a quirk or habit. Sometimes it is beneficial in naming your new kitten to use your keen observation to help you find a suitable title to call her by. Try to determine what it is that makes her stand out from the rest by discovering the Sun sign individuality of your cat.

Sun in Aries:

A fierce hunter by nature, Sassy needs to chase prey for the conquest and the game of it all. The idea of hunting for food is negligible, although Sassy will be first to demonstrate it's her prey only. Having a me first attitude in all she does makes it important that you feed her first. Keep this cat exercised with climbing poles and a large deck she can watch the birds from. Sassy has been known to cover a large territory looking for prey. Active and aggressive, Sassy must be allowed to forage on her own with free reign of the area even if it just includes your family room. Keep a handful of catnip mice that she can tear apart for treats.

Sun in the 11th house:

This is the cat that belongs in a house with many. Both human and animal companionship is required for this quirky cat. Always entertaining us with some outlandish escapade, Sassy can be different in looks or act differently from all other cats you've known before. Keep a variety of animal playmates she can entertain. Only you know how many it takes to keep Sassy happy - a harem or two may suffice. A strong desire for independence may make it impossible for this cat to stay indoors.

Sun Conjunct Moon:

Ever notice how Sassy comes to you without calling, or possibly a few minutes before you actually do call her? Highly intuitive, Sassy will always surprise you with her abilities. You might want to not think about the veterinarian appointment or Sassy could turn up missing when it's time to go. A truly psychic animal, Sassy feels every notion you have. She can sit with you for hours making you feel better when you're upset or sick. Keep her bed covered with small animals or pieces of clothing that remind her of you. Sassy needs to feel you near her at all times and will not like long periods of separation. You might want to find a companion animal for Sassy that she can substitute for you when you are absent.

Sun Conjunct Mercury:

Too wise for her own good, this smart cat will make sure she uses all nine lives wisely, causing you to stare in disbelief. You can't outsmart Sassy for she is always one step ahead of you. There is no way you can keep Sassy out of something that is of interest to her. She is smart enough to open drawers or cabinet doors and it will take more than simple maneuvers to keep Sassy out of trouble. Don't worry about Sassy getting lost - she writes her own set of directions. She is very communicative and will let you know her needs. When Sassy speaks, other animals listen, including you. High pitched and rather vocal sounds will come from Sassy when in she is in need of attention. Sassy soon teaches others to follow her cue.

Moon

The Moon tells us how Sassy bonds emotionally with us and her other feline friends. It's hard to believe, but cats really are moved by emotions - some more than others. If you ever really want to know what makes your kitty enjoy life look to the Moon sign. Soon you will discover what she can't live without. It could be something as simple as a catnip mouse, but it will bring lasting enjoyment and a bond with you that will be memorable for life. Learn what your cat desires the most.

Moon in Aries:

Always a kitten at heart but a fierce hunter by any other description, Sassy has a temper that can be seen when she is subjected to limits. Don't try to prevent Sassy from escape - it is almost impossible. She has a strong prey drive and can surprise you with many presents left for your approval. Sassy is a leader in exploring and marking new territory; you may need to intervene to prevent injury when you hear another cat's call for help. She can't help demonstrating who's boss. Sassy's tendencies to head injuries may have you visiting the vet more than once. Missing parts from ears or tail is common. It's not often she loses, but size may be the determining factor. Perhaps the aid of a dog partner, offering protection, will assist Sassy to win battles.

Moon in the 11th house:

Sassy has more friends than you are aware of. Frequent visits from other animals will surprise you. Her ability to nurture others and bring them to food is uncanny. You may think it's coincidence but think again. This smart kitty knows how to lend a helping hand to other critters and finds solace in knowing that the kindness will be returned to her someday. Sassy has a friend she visits in each street. It may just be the horse or cow next door or the neighborhood's youngest child. It doesn't matter, Sassy makes friends wherever she is.

Moon Conjunct Sun:

Sassy's shining personality eats up every loving bit of attention she gets. She is the center of attention or alpha cat of the household; you'd better check with her first before introducing any new members - including humans. Sassy is known for being emotionally upset and displaying it unkindly. It is much easier if you ask her permission first. Having her assist you in the choice of a new animal will also be helpful. Sassy requires a good deal of attention and demands that you listen and understand her needs. She likes to feel like the queen of her domain. Sharing may not be an option.

Moon Trine Pluto:

Sassy now knows that change can mean good things. She is a product of many changes in the emotional arena - there may be many who have come and gone in her household. This makes it difficult for Sassy to get close to others. She doesn't care as long as the one constant in life is you. A deep and penetrating wound is felt every time something is removed that she once loved. Give Sassy reassurance that your love will always survive. She feels like she owns you, and sharing is not an option. Never place the love of a human or another animal before her; this does not settle well and will leave Sassy depressed.

Mercury

Mercury, the planet of communications, suggests how felines communicate with us. There are many different forms of communication besides meowing. Body language will also give us clues into what our cats want. But their most important form of communication is reflected in their ability to send messages telepathically. Some cats are better at this than others but equally important is our receptiveness to such information. We all know how Sassy can get her point across when she wants to. Now learn what you can do to facilitate greater sensitivity to what it is your cat has to say.

Mercury in Aries:

Sassy just wants to be the eternal kitten. Impulsive in action and movement, she has a quick response to stimuli that surprises many a prey. With a strong desire to be on the hunt, she is the first to attack foreign animals or felines that dare enter her territory. Sassy is able to relate well with other, younger animals and may be seen as a leader of the group.

Mercury in the 11th house:

This lucky feline has more friends than you do. In fact your friends come to visit her often. A lover of people, Sassy often places herself adjacent to any newcomer who enters your house. She can communicate with all species and considers them friends for life.

Mercury Conjunct Sun:

Sassy's appearance and presentation says it all. Smarter than your average feline, Sassy meets you eye for eye with any thought you may try to communicate. She understands you and knows exactly what you want of her. This does not mean that she will adhere to that, but if she wanted to, she could. Sassy likes to teach you a few tricks making you reconsider how you view cats. This can only be met with mutual respect when you consider how fast and easily Sassy has trained you. You'll be wishing you could use telepathy more often to shut this putty tat up. Explain to Sassy that you need sleep too, and can't be on call 24 hours a day. She may be a little more gentle with wake up calls.

Mercury Sextile Uranus:

This high-strung kitten probably drove you crazy as she climbed up curtain rods and lampshades. A ball of energy, Sassy just can't wait to pounce. Keep this feline highly entertained with toys made of catnip (to soothe her nerves). Try throwing a ball or other small toy and watch as Sassy high dives and somersaults to retrieve it, and just as quickly returns it for your next throw. She has a finely tuned nervous system - you can actually watch the wheels moving as Sassy contemplates her next attack.

Venus

prizes from any contest she enters. To accompany those fine looks Sassy has a meow like no other. When she is content, the sounds she emits can be very melodious. Sassy likes music and may even enjoy your voice as well.

Venus in the 11th house:

Sassy brings more friends over than you care to have in your home. Like a magnet, Sassy attracts other animal friends to her side. She often surprises you with who accompanies her home. Never forgetting who helped her attain goals in the past, Sassy holds her friends on a pedestal, as they do her.

Venus Square Neptune:

Sassy may have come to you after losing her previous owner, or it may be her own lifetime cat partner that she grieves for. Her mournful eyes make you aware of what sorrow looks like. Help this sensitive feline to heal by offering the love and attention she deserves. Don't wait for her to reach out for affection; you may have to be the aggressor and coax her to your side by gentle words. Play her favorite music.

Mars

Mars shows how Sassy expresses her energy and enthusiasm for life. Mars gives passion and vitality to the place in the astrology chart where it is located.

Mars in Taurus:

Sassy's favorite place is in your lap or on top of the comfortable couch you provide for her. A true couch potato, Sassy sees life as a succession of meal times. It's only then that she shows a true interest in things. The more perfect and attractive the setting the better she eats. Serve her using china and crystal.

Mars in the 12th house:

Sassy follows a different tune and that's only when you can find her. Everything is a secret with Sassy, who often appears after being missing in action as if nothing were wrong. No one knows where Sassy goes but her sudden return leaves you wondering if it is closer than suspected. A bit introverted around strangers, Sassy may prefer the comfort of your closet to a full confrontation with them. Look for Sassy under beds and tables but never in full view.

Mars Square Uranus:

Sassy's fast and impulsive actions leave little to the imagination. You may have to clean up the pieces of anything left in her path. She can turn on a dime, but Sassy's reaction time is not always accurate, leaving her missing her mark. Give her an "A" for effort and try not to laugh too hard when she runs into the sliding door. Kitties do have feelings and a sense of pride, you know.

Jupiter

Jupiter is where the window of opportunity opens up for Sassy. This is where Sassy finds her fun. Pleasant memories from these times provide a lifetime of happiness for Sassy. Jupiter's influence is truly beneficial in most cases but can also suggest an area of excess, with food being the major culprit.

Jupiter in Cancer:

Mommy's little helper, Sassy is seldom missing from your side. Her favorite place is the kitchen so that any extra food might find its way into her waiting paws. Mother to all, Sassy has enough love and patience to provide for everyone, nurturing her own and other kittens that come her way.

Jupiter in the 1st house:

This jovial feline never gives you a moment's rest. She is either crying for food or attention continuously. She likes the sound of her own meow. A bit portly with age, Sassy never looks dull, but is full of fun and juvenile type activities that perplex even you.

Saturn

Saturn shows us where there is restraint or obstructions in Sassy's life. Saturn also shows us lessons Sassy needs to learn in life and how she might accomplish this. This is where Sassy learns to be resourceful and how to survive in life.

Saturn in Gemini:

Sassy analyzes every word that comes out of your mouth. Always ready to learn a new trick, Sassy actually enjoys the hard work it takes to get it right. Give this feline someone to talk with and she won't disappoint you. Continue talking to her as if she were human. Anything less will get you a look of disdain and she will have hurt feelings that make her feign ignorance next time you call her. This will drive you crazy when you expect her to behave as predicted. Protect Sassy from respiratory infections or immune deficiency disease.

Saturn in the 12th house:

Sassy may have spent a good deal of her life in a shelter or worse. These habits may carry over into the present life. Always hidden away, Sassy may need more than coaxing to get out from under the bed. Soon enough trust can be developed to allow increasing amounts of time with one person. Sassy prefers being away from the general public and will not take well to visitors in your home.

Saturn Trine Neptune:

Sassy's dreams are a reality for her. She sees the bird come right into the living room in the reflection of the crystal. It won't take Sassy much to come up with ways to have fun. Fantasy from catnip may be too much for Sassy to handle.

Uranus

Uranus demonstrates genius and intuitive abilities. Sassy's independence is strongly influenced by where Uranus falls in her chart. This is where Sassy's talents lie - waiting for you to discover them by subtle communication.

Uranus in Aquarius:

Sassy's finely tuned senses allow her to receive mental messages easily and use them to her advantage. Sassy's unselfish devotion to her friends and family is worth mention. Dreams then becomes action, and you thought you were the one that came up with the idea.

Uranus Sextile Mercury:

Sassy has signs of being a genius but her eccentricities may prevent you from realizing it. Capable of lofty intentions, she soon makes her way into your heart and home. Despite maintaining an independent attitude, Sassy can be found taking over your bed and your entire household. Sassy's unusual ways may have you wondering about reincarnation. Highly intuitive, Sassy knows exactly how to manipulate you for gain of food or treat.

Uranus Square Mars:

Nervous energy may rob Sassy of the strength she needs to survive on her own. Sassy's stubborn and persistent nature is not always enough to carry her through to completion. Find healthy outlets for all that aggressive energy that she finds so necessary to show. You are not likely to sway Sassy once she has made up her mind to do something.

Neptune

Neptune shows you where and how Sassy spends her spare time. Where does Sassy's imagination take her when you are not there? Does she have a favorite escape that you are unaware of? What fantasy truly inspires Sassy and sends her to nirvana? Sassy returns here often when stressed, or just for fun. Neptune shows where she can achieve the same sensation with a little help from you.

Neptune in Aquarius:

Sassy is far too ahead of her time to be appreciated. She is totally independent and it may be difficulty to curb some of Sassy's original ideas. Popular with many other animals, Sassy shows them all new tricks to make life more interesting. Sassy can be very animated and original in her displays for attention. Provide the opportunity for Sassy to visit with other animals of her choosing. Always the life of the party, Sassy dreams of having a house full of friendly animals she can play with.

Neptune in the 8th house:

Sassy's obsession with death and the spirit world may be just a little too much for you to conceive of. Known to see spirits and converse with those who have passed, Sassy may occasionally be seen playing with her imaginary friends. She is capable of reading your mind as well as the minds of others who visit your household; it will be very difficult to hide your true feelings from her. Sassy's judgement can be trusted, and a constant awareness of her perception of things can be very helpful.

Neptune Square Venus:

Sassy just doesn't seem to fit in with the rest of the crowd. Her restless and chaotic movements may be caused by her desire to be noticed. This may often be frustrated by an inability to fit in or make her needs known.

Neptune Trine Saturn:

Sassy is very experienced even at an early age. Often dreaming of a situation before it happens, Sassy seems prepared to meet danger or change head on. A bit inclined to take risks, Sassy is lucky enough to forestall injury. She is conscious of the invisible, and capable of learning from unseen sources.

Pluto

Pluto is where Sassy finds release from those powers that bind her. Old conditions that are no longer useful are eliminated. Obsessive or compulsive behavior that needs to be eliminated or changed will be here. Pluto forces Sassy to deal with it. Pluto shows her how to transform for better or worse, and you may be the most likely Pluto character in Sassy's chart. An awareness that nothing is permanent helps Sassy accept the challenge that loss has brought her to where she is. Sassy will find many new beginnings where Pluto falls in her chart. A constant renewal and regeneration awaits her there. Although not usually very malleable, Sassy learns that this is where she must change to continue as planned. Sassy soon sees that change can be good when she senses the improvement in your acceptance of her.

Pluto in Sagittarius:

Sassy teaches all the other animals in the house how to behave. Her unique understanding makes her a step above all others. A traveler by nature, Sassy has been known to give up all to travel beyond her home environment. It is through these journeys that Sassy learns things she can bring back to teach others. Looking for love in all the wrong places can be Sassy's motive.

Pluto in the 6th house:

Sassy's need to reform you and the other members of the household can be shocking at times as she expects complete control of the circumstances. Learning to live with a disability or illness can suddenly change all that, placing the emphasis elsewhere. As Sassy deals with reforming her previous self, she soon forgets about other, less important things.

Pluto Trine Moon:

Manipulative to an extreme, Sassy knows exactly how to pull all your heart strings for the maximum effect. Fancy Feast and chicken have been known to fall from the counters when you think Sassy has forgotten her love for you. Sassy knows you need the nurturing she provides for you and will withhold it when there may be a reward in the future. She is aware of how much to deliver to get the right response.
